CONGRESS.

After our report had closed yesterday, Mr. Franklin, of Maryland, gave at length the casons which induced him to vote for the commitment of the Nebraska-Kansas bill of the nate. Although he was in favor of the prin-Senate. Although he was in favor of the principle of non-intervention by Congress in the Territories of the United States on the subject of Slavery, yet the provisions of the bill were so odious, that he voted to consign it to the deep bosom of the Committee of the Whole, from whence it might possibly never arise. He did this, he said, because, although the bill professed to carry out the doctrine of non-intervention, it did, by the Badger proviso, intervene upon the subject of Slavery in the Territories. This point he argued at length, and also to show that under the bill the proposed Territories must be forever free.

The Committee then rose, and the bill of the Senate, making a grant of public lands to the several States of the Union, for the benefit of indigent insane persons, was read twice; and

Mr. Summer presented the resolutions, of a like character, of two towns in Massachusetts.

Mr. Thomson, of New Jersey, presented the resolution of a town meeting held in that State, remonstrating against the Nebraska bill.

Mr. Slidell presented the resolutions of the Legislature of Louisiana, praying a grant of land for the support of the deaf, dumb, and blind.

Mr. Thomson, of New Jersey, presented the resolutions of the Legislature of New Jersey, in favor of grants of land in limited quantities to The Chair laid before the Senate a report

Mr. Shields reported back the House joint resolution explanatory of the act regulating the appointment of cadets to West Point, declaring that new Congressional districts shall be entitled to the appointment of a cadet.

This amendment was debated at length, and supported by Messrs. Hunter, Stuart, and Pearce, and opposed by Messrs. Shields, Badger, and Pettit.

That part excluding from the receipt of pension all persons holding civil salaried office under the United States, was stricken out.

At two o'clock, Mr. Mason moved to post-pone the bill, with a view of going into the pone the bill, with a view of going into the consideration of Executive business, and the , and the

The amendment was further amonded by providing for one general examination of invalid pensioners, and dispensing with the biennial examination.

After much further debate, the question was taken an agreeing to the amendment as amended, and it was decided in the affirmative—yeas 22, nays 20. Other amendments were offered.

House of Representatives, March 29, 1854.

Mr. Henn, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported back Senate bill No. 92, with a recommendation that it pass. This bill gives to the people of Council Bluffs the privilege of entering one section of land, upon which the town is located, at $1.25, the minimum price. It was read a third time, and passed.

Mr. Disney, from the same committee, reported the House bill granting land to the several States, for the bonefit of indigent insane persons in the said States, with a recom-Mr. Henn, from the Committee on Public persons in the said States, with a recommendation that it do not pass. The report of the committee was read. It argues at length that the General Government has no power so to interfere with the affairs of the several States, nor so to dispose of the public domain.

Mr. Bennett, from the same committee, made a minority report, and asked that it might be

Mr. Orr objected to the reading. On motion of Mr. Hendricks, the Committee

The reports were laid on the table, and or-

Mr. Warren moved that that motion be laid on the table. Lost—yeas 71, nays 89.

The question was then taken on the motion to commit the bill to the Committee of the Whole, and decided in the affirmative—yeas 83,

Mr. Florence presented a bill, of which previous notice had been given, to provide for apprentices in the United States navy, revenue service, and commercial marine. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

The House then resolved itself into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union Mr. Hamilton in the chair.

And Mr. Barksdale addressed the Commitee in support of the Kansas and Nebraska tee in support of the Kansas and Nebraska bill. It was not his purpose to discuss the ab-stract question of Slavery, whatever may be its benefits and blessings to the master and the slave, in the slave States, and in the North, where their products are consumed. It was sufficient that the Constitution upheld and supported it. He would not discuss the gene-ral provisions of the bill. They would meet with ne opposition upon principle.

with ne opposition upon principle.

The bill is said to be premature. This objection will not stand scrutiny. But it is now before us, and we have only to examine it, and to act upon it.

There are American citizens in the Territory, and they have elected a delegate and sent him here. Mr. Barksdale here read a letter in proof of such election. He also read from the St. Louis Republican an extract setting forth the fact that emigrants were pressing on to that country. All, however, had admitted that this was a mere question of time. The people will soon create a Government, if Congress does not give them one. Mr. Barksdale read from the speech of Mr. Everett, in the Senate, to prove that the question was but one of time. He was still speaking, when our report closed. and to act upon it.

Prom the United States Argus.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it mutters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort. ONE PRICE ONLY. We are now in our NEW STORE, which was creeted expressly for us. We think it the most comfortable and best lighted storcom in the city; and with increased room, tacilities, and experience, deemed quite ample, we shall deal FORRIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS.

of every style, all of the best qualities, and for which we shall have one price only. We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and we shall have one price only.

We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to retain all this trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubt less we shall have a large accession of new customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price system is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will, after an impartial examination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and vast advantages to the purchaser resulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system, it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser, for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in prices.

Our scale of prices will be so low, and the profits so small, that we cannot and will not sell but for the cash or to customers who pay promptly. For those who purchase very largely, or to sell again, reductions will be made.

The public are cordially and most respectfully invited to call at all times and examine our stock.

We annex herewith the recommendation of some of the principal wholesale merchanttailors in New York city.

New York, July 30, 1853.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we have examined the "Avery Securing Machine," and cheerfully recommend it for its simplicity, durability, and es, ecially for the peculiar stitch made by it. The stitch is original, and in appearance is like the most perfect and handsome "back-stitching." We have thoroughly tested the strength of the sewing, and are satisfied that the stitch of this machine makes a stronger and firmer seem than can be made by hand. We take pleasure in recommending this Machine to our friends, and to tailors, seamstresses, and families generally, throughout the country:

BACON'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE,
Northwest corner of Sixth and Walnut streets,
Cincinnati, Ohio.

The undersigned has removed his Mercantile College to his new building, northwest corner of Walnut and Sixth streets, where he has fitted up a splendid suite of rooms, expressly for his business-having spared neither pains nor expense in making them in every respect the nost convenient and pleasant school rooms in the United States.

The plan adopted in teaching combines practice with theory; instead of using books, the pupils are exercised in making original entries of overy-day business transactions Journalising, posting, balancing accounts, opening and closing of a great variety of different sets of books, both for partnership and individual business, where the business has been prosperous and adverse; and thus qualifying the student for entering into the practical duties of the accountant, in any kind of business.

The course of instruction will consist of Double-entry Book-keeping, embracing every department of trade and mercantile accounts, vis: Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Shipping, Individual, Partnership, Steamboating, and Compound Co. Business. Commercial Calculations, Practical Penmanssip, and Lectures on Commercial Law; also, Lectures on the Science of Accounts, Custom of Merchants, etc.

In addition to the regular course of study, the undersigned has made arrangements with Henry Snow, Esq., Hon. Bellamy Storer, Prof C. W. Wright, and other eminent lecturers, to deliver a course of Lectures on the subjects of Commercial Law, History of Commerce, Political Economy as connected with commerce, and other subjects of great importance in a commercial point of view, and never before introduced in any Mercantile College in the United States.

Pupils are instructed individually, and not in classes; so that students may enter at any time, and proceed in the ratio of their capacity and assiduity.

Public examinations are had, (though pupils are examined privately, if they desire it,

THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR. Edited by Uncle Lucius, Syracuse, N. Y THE want of a paper for children, of a reformatory character, has long been felt. The juvenile papers of our land do not meet the demands of the community. They please the oye and interest the reader, but do not instruct and enlighten the mind with reference to the great sins of the day. Reformers! The Juvenile Instructor is intended to meet this demand. It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.
